Dear Admiral Wellborn:

Thank you for your very kind letter of 22 January.

It was gratifying to learn that the lecture and the discussions on "Unconventional Warfare" recently participated in by representatives of our organization were so well received. Your courtesy in writing to me about these men is indeed appreciated. In regard to the support rendered by our representatives, I might say that it is a great pleasure for us to take part in the curriculum of the college.

I am forwarding copies of your letter for placement in the official personnel folders of those concerned.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles
Director

Dear Mr. Dulles:

On behalf of the faculty and students of the Armed Forces Staff College, I wish to express appreciation for the lecture delivered by [redacted] (Ret.). In outlining the responsibilities of CIA in unconventional warfare and presenting a very clear picture of the coordinating procedures between CIA and the Department of Defense, [redacted] has made a highly important contribution to our course. Please convey my sincere thanks to [redacted] for his well organized and excellently presented lecture.
